

Afghanistan: A Soldier's Story

Submissions Disclaimer

Purpose

Materials on this Web site are being solicited, by a non Department of National Defence (DND) initiative, from Canadian military and civilian personnel who have served in the Canadian Afghanistan Combat Mission for the express purpose of compiling submissions into a legacy album, "Afghanistan: A Soldier's Story". This publication is being produced in order to provide Canadians with the human stories and images from that mission.

Copyright

All submitted material will become property of the "Afghanistan: A Soldier's Story" and any unauthorized duplication is prohibited. The terms of this agreement are governed in accordance with the laws of the Province of Alberta and the Country of Canada and by the provisions of the Copyright Act RSC 1985, c C-42. Such provisions serve to identify the information source and, to prohibit reproduction of materials without written permission.

Non-for-profit Reproduction

Information on this Web site is being posted with the intent that it be validated, ordered, and compiled for publication in a non-DND legacy album that will be made available for purchase with net proceeds going to not for profit organizations including but not limited to the Military Family Resources Centre and the Boomers Legacy Foundation.

Submitters are required to:

- Exercise due diligence in ensuring the accuracy of the materials submitted;
- Indicate both the complete title of the materials submitted, as well as the name, rank and unit of the author, the mission, operation or task force, date, and accurate description of persons and events in any imagery.

Disclaimer

1. General

Content submitted to this web site does not necessarily represent the opinion of the publisher, of the volunteers collaborating to produce the publication "Afghanistan: A Soldier's Story" or the Canadian Forces/Department of National Defence (CF/DND). Submissions will be vetted and validated to ensure that the publication does not inadvertently become a forum for complaints and concerns that should be addressed through existing regulations and processes internal to the CF/DND.

The author and/or contributor authorize “Afghanistan: A Soldier’s Story” to make available to the general public the literary work you have submitted in electronic and print media. Failure to obtain permission could result in prosecution under Canadian and International Copyright law.

You further authorize and grant “Afghanistan: A Soldier’s Story” the right to publish such work in other compilations without reservation.

You understand, agree, and hereby waive any and all rights to monies that inclusion of your literary submission may generate by such publications compiled by “Afghanistan: A Soldier’s Story”.

In no event shall “Afghanistan: A Soldier’s Story” and/or its licensors and partners be liable for any special, indirect or consequential damages or any damages whatsoever resulting from loss of use, data or profits, whether in an action of contract, negligence or other tortious action, arising out of or in connection with any use of the materials.

“Afghanistan: A Soldier’s Story” can and may, at their sole discretion, reject, remove, or disallow inclusion of any and all submissions.

Commercial Reproduction

Reproduction of materials on this site, in whole or in part, for the purposes of commercial redistribution outside the publication of the book “Afghanistan: A Soldier’s Story” and related marketing material, is prohibited except with written permission from the publisher, John McQuarrie. To obtain permission to reproduce materials on this site for commercial purposes, please contact Mr. McQuarrie at mcq@magma.ca.

Reproduction of Government Symbols

There has been no intentional use, or reproduction of the official symbols of the Government of Canada, including the “Canada” wordmark, the Arms of Canada, and the flag symbol in this web site or in the final publication “Afghanistan: A Soldier’s Story” except where these images have been a part of the subject matter in photographs and videos of Canadian Forces personnel and equipment deployed in Afghanistan.

Privacy Notices

This web site and the publication “Afghanistan: A Soldier’s Story” is committed to respecting the privacy of submitters and visitors to the site. This web site will not automatically gather any specific personal information from you, such as your name, phone number or e-mail address. This type of information will only be solicited from visitors as a part of the submission process and will not be used for any purpose beyond the author identification requirements of copyright and for purposes of submission validation or communication with a submitter to clarify details of a submission.

All personal information created, held or collected for the publication “Afghanistan: A Soldier’s Story” is protected under the Privacy Act. This means that at any point of collection you will be informed of the purpose for which it is being collected and how to exercise your right of access to that information.

Questions or comments regarding this privacy policy, or the administration of the Privacy Act in with regards to the publication “Afghanistan: A Soldier’s Story” may be directed to the publisher John McQuarrie or the project coordinator, Melanie Graham (we need to create domain email addresses for this)

If you are dissatisfied with the response you receive on a privacy concern with this site, you may contact the Privacy Commissioner of Canada.